What Is Xitox Footpads?

Xitox Footpads are designed as a convenient, at-home method to support the body's natural detoxification pathways. These pads are applied to the soles of the feet before bed and are intended to draw out impurities overnight. The concept is based on the understanding that the feet have numerous nerve endings and meridian points connected to various organs and systems in the body.

- Convenient and easy to use at home.
- Supports natural detoxification processes.
- Targets reflexology points on the feet.

How Does Xitox Footpads Work?

Xitox Footpads work by combining the principles of reflexology and traditional detoxification methods. The pads contain a blend of natural ingredients that are believed to stimulate circulation and promote the release of toxins through the skin.

1. Application to Reflexology Points

The footpads are designed to be applied to the soles of the feet, targeting specific reflexology points. These points are believed to correspond to different organs and systems in the body. Applying the pads to these areas is thought to stimulate those corresponding areas, promoting overall balance and well-being.

2. Absorption of Natural Ingredients

The pads contain a blend of natural ingredients, such as wood vinegar, bamboo vinegar, tourmaline, and vitamin C. These ingredients are believed to have various beneficial properties, including promoting circulation, absorbing moisture, and providing antioxidant support. When applied to the skin, these ingredients are gradually absorbed, supporting the body's natural detoxification processes.

3. Overnight Detoxification

The footpads are typically worn overnight, allowing ample time for the ingredients to work. During this time, the pads are intended to draw out impurities through the pores of the feet. The color and consistency of the pads may change overnight, reflecting the potential release of toxins.
