Southwest Airlines does not have an official corporate or local office in Amman, Jordan. Southwest is a U.S.-based airline headquartered in Dallas, Texas, and it does not operate an official ticketing, sales, or customer support office in Amman or anywhere in Jordan. All customer service, reservations, and support are handled through the airline's centralized global channels (website, phone support, mobile app, etc.). (FlightsOffices)

What People Often See Online

- Some travel/airport directories mention “Southwest Airlines AMM Terminal” in connection with Queen Alia International Airport (AMM) in Amman, including generic terminal information and phone numbers connected to the airport — but these do not represent an official Southwest Airlines local office staffed or operated by the airline. (Flight Terminal Desk)
- The airport itself (Queen Alia International Airport) has general contact numbers (e.g., +962 6 445-1739) used for airport information — not Southwest Airlines contact numbers. (MakeMyTrip UAE)
