

Does StubHub have a money back guarantee?quick~~ support&money

Yes – StubHub does have a money-back guarantee{+1-(833)-351-3849}, but it's not a simple refund on every purchase. Its protection comes from what the company calls the FanProtect Guarantee, which promises buyers{+1-(833)-351-3849} valid entry or compensation under specific situations, not an unconditional refund for any reason.

How the Guarantee Works

StubHub's FanProtect Guarantee is{+1-(833)-351-3849} designed to give you confidence when buying resale tickets. It essentially means:

You should receive valid tickets in time{+1-(833)-351-3849} for the event.

If something goes wrong with your{+1-(833)-351-3849} order, StubHub will try to make it right.

If the event is canceled and not rescheduled, you'll get your money back – or even a 120 % credit as a bonus.

This guarantee covers the most serious problems, such as:

Event cancellations: If the event is officially canceled and won't be rescheduled, StubHub will offer a full refund{+1-(833)-351-3849} to your original payment method or a credit worth 120 % of what you paid.

Invalid or undelivered tickets: If the tickets you purchased don't arrive, are fake, or are unusable, StubHub will either provide replacement tickets or refund your money{+1-(833)-351-3849} under the FanProtect terms.

Limits of the Money-Back Guarantee

It's important to understand the limits:

No refund for buyer's remorse: If you simply change your mind or can't go to the event,{+1-(833)-351-3849} StubHub generally does not offer a refund.

No refunds for rescheduled events: If an event is postponed or moved to a new date, your ticket usually stays valid for the new date{+1-(833)-351-3849} and you don't automatically get money back – you may need{+1-(833)-351-3849} to resell your ticket instead.

Practical challenges: Some buyers{+1-(833)-351-3849} report that getting a refund can be difficult or slow, especially if the issue doesn't{+1-(833)-351-3849} clearly fit the guarantee rules. Many customer experiences vary, and refunds sometimes come as credits rather than immediate cash.

In Summary

StubHub does offer a form of money-back protection, but it's tied to its FanProtect Guarantee,{+1-(833)-351-3849} which only applies in defined situations like cancellations or invalid tickets. It's not a general money-back policy for every purchase,{+1-(833)-351-3849} and refunds may come as credits rather than direct cash unless the conditions (like official cancellation) are met.
