 - Alaska may reimburse rental costs

Pet Kennels:

Damaged kennel:

- Report immediately
- Safety concern
- Alaska replaces/repairs priority

Injured pet:

- Seek vet care immediately
- File claim for medical costs
- Keep all vet bills

Pet issue: Call +1 (844) 212-9096 urgent priority

What Alaska WON'T Cover

Exclusions:

Pre-existing damage:

- Normal wear and tear
- Damage before flight
- Must prove happened during Alaska handling

Fragile items (not packed properly):

- Liquor bottles
- Glass items
- Breakables without proper padding

Inherent defects:

- Bag was already breaking
- Manufacturer defect

Tips:

- Take photos of bag BEFORE checking
 - Shows pre-existing condition
 - Proves new damage

Escalating Baggage Issues

 If Not Resolved:

Level 1: Baggage office (Day 1)

- File initial report

Level 2: Phone follow-up (Day 3) ☎ Call +1 (844) 212-9096

- Status update request
- Express urgency

Level 3: Supervisor (Day 7) ☎ Call +1 (844) 212-9096 ask for supervisor

- Escalate unresolved issue
- Request expedited search

Level 4: Formal Complaint (Day 14)

- Alaska.com → Customer Care
- File written complaint
- Reference all previous contacts

Level 5: DOT Complaint (Day 30)

- transportation.gov
 - Government intervention
 - Alaska must respond

International Baggage Issues

 Extra Considerations:

Customs complications:

- Bag held by customs
- Not lost, just detained
- May take 24-72 hours

Language barriers:

- Alaska has translators available
- Call +1 (844) 212-9096 (English support)
- They coordinate with foreign airports

Different compensation limits:

- Montreal Convention applies
- ~$1,780 max international
- Lower than domestic $3,800

Currency exchange:

- Reimbursements in USD
- Exchange rates apply

 International bag issue: Call +1 (844) 212-9096 - they handle foreign airports

Prevention Tips

Reduce Baggage Problems:

Before check-in:

- Take photos of bag (exterior/interior)
- List contents on phone
- Remove old airline tags
- Secure locks
- Add name tag (inside AND outside)
- Bright colored bag/ribbon (easy to spot)

At check-in:

- Verify destination tag correct
- Keep baggage claim ticket
- Declare high-value items
- Consider carry-on for valuables

Consider:

- AirTag/Tile tracker in bag
- You can track independently

- Helpful for lost bag recovery

Baggage Delay Due to Connections

Tight Connections:

If you make it but bag doesn't:

- Very common scenario
- Bag on next flight
- Usually arrives 2-12 hours after you

What to do:

- File delayed bag report (even though you know why)
- Confirm delivery address
- Get reference number
- Alaska delivers when arrives

Compensation:

- Same rights as other delays
- Essential items covered if 6+ hours

 Tight connection, no bag: Expected. Still call +1 (844) 212-9096 to file report.

Baggage Issues During Irregular Operations

Mass Delays/Cancellations:

When weather/system issues affect many flights:

Baggage challenges:

- Thousands of bags displaced
- System overwhelmed
- Longer recovery times

Your strategy:

- File report immediately (even if lines long)
- Get reference number
- Track online (phone lines jammed)

- Be patient - may take 3-5 days vs. normal 1-2

Priority bags:

- Medical necessities
 - Infant supplies
 - Medications
 - Call +1 (844) 212-9096 and explain urgency for priority handling

Connecting Flight Bag Transfer Issues

Common Scenarios:

Scenario 1: Short Connection, Made Flight

- You made it, bag didn't
- Bag on next flight (2-6 hours later)
- Alaska delivers automatically
- File report for documentation

Scenario 2: Missed Connection

- Both you and bag rerouted
- Bag may beat you to final destination
- Or may still be at hub
- Track with reference number

Scenario 3: Different Airlines (Codeshare)

- First leg: Partner airline
 - Second leg: Alaska
 - Bag transfer responsibility unclear
 - Call +1 (844) 212-9096 - Alaska coordinates with partners

Documentation Best Practices

Keep These Records:

For all bag issues:

- Baggage claim ticket (photo + original)
- Boarding pass
- Reference number from report
- All communications (emails, texts)
- Phone call notes (date, time, agent name)

For delayed bags:

- Purchase receipts (essentials)
- Photos of purchases
- Delivery confirmation
- Timeline of events

For damaged bags:

- Photos BEFORE trip (prove condition)
- Photos of damage (multiple angles)
- Close-ups of damage
- Original purchase receipt of bag
- Repair estimates (if seeking repair)

For lost bags:

- Packing list (detailed)
- Purchase receipts of contents (if available)
- Photos of items (if available)
- Value estimates
- Replacement cost research

Store digitally:

- Photo everything
- Email to yourself
- Cloud backup
- Easy to access during claim process

Special Circumstances

Students/Study Abroad:

If bag lost with textbooks/laptop:

- Higher urgency (academic deadlines)
 - Mention to +1 (844) 212-9096
 - May expedite search
 - Reimbursement for essential school items

Business Travelers:

If bag lost with work materials:

- Presentation materials
 - Work laptop/documents
 - Meeting attire
 - Mention business urgency to +1 (844) 212-9096
 - Essential items reimbursement covers business necessities

Wedding Travel:

If bag lost with wedding attire:

- EXTREME urgency
 - Call +1 (844) 212-9096 immediately
 - Explain situation (wedding date/time)
 - Alaska often prioritizes
 - Essential items may cover emergency attire rental

Medical Equipment:

If bag lost with medical devices/medications:

- HIGHEST priority
- Call +1 (844) 212-9096 immediately
- Explain medical necessity
- Alaska expedites
- May cover emergency replacement

Insurance Considerations

Credit Card Coverage:

Many premium credit cards cover:

- Baggage delay (6-12 hours)
- Lost baggage
- Damaged baggage
- Often $500-3,000 coverage

Check your card benefits:

- File with Alaska first
- Then file with credit card (supplemental)
- May recover more than Alaska alone

Cards with good coverage:

- Chase Sapphire Reserve
- AmEx Platinum
- Many travel cards

Travel Insurance:

Separate travel insurance policies:

- Cover baggage issues
- Higher limits possible
- Coordinate with Alaska claim
- File both simultaneously

Rights Under DOT Regulations

Your Legal Rights:

Airlines MUST:

- Accept baggage reports
- Provide tracking/status
- Compensate per published limits
- Process claims timely

- Respond to complaints

You have right to:

- File report even if airline resists
- Receive compensation per limits
- Escalate to DOT if unresolved
- Written documentation of claim

DOT complaint: transportation.gov (if Alaska doesn't resolve)

International Rights (Montreal Convention)

International Flights:

Montreal Convention:

- Governs international baggage
- 1,288 SDR limit ($1,780)
- Applies to all international flights
- Stricter reporting deadlines (7 days for damage)

Your obligations:

- Report damage within 7 days
- Report delay within 21 days
- File written claim
- Preserve evidence

Airlines can't avoid these:

- Minimum standards
 - Enforceable globally

Common Mistakes to Avoid

Don't Do This:

Mistake 1: Leaving airport without reporting

- Weakens claim
- Harder to prove timing
- ALWAYS report before leaving

Mistake 2: Throwing away damaged bag

- Keep until claim settled
- Alaska may need to inspect
- Store damaged bag

Mistake 3: Not keeping receipts

- Can't get reimbursed without proof
- Keep ALL receipts

Mistake 4: Waiting to report damage

- 24-hour window (domestic)
- 7-day window (international)
- Report immediately

Mistake 5: Overstating value

- Insurance fraud
- Claim denied entirely
- Be honest about values

Mistake 6: Not following up

- Don't assume it's being handled
- Call for updates regularly

FAQ: Baggage Issues

Q: How long before bag is declared "lost"?

A: 21 days domestic, 5-21 days international.

Q: Can I buy new luggage and get reimbursed?

A: Only if bag is declared lost or damage unrepairable. Keep damaged bag until claim settled.

Q: What if I fly tomorrow and bag still not found?

A: Call +1 (844) 212-9096 - may provide additional essentials reimbursement.

Q: Do I have to use Alaska's repair facility?

A: No, can get your own estimate. But get Alaska's approval before repairs.

Q: Can I refuse delivery and demand new bag?

A: Generally no. Accept delivery, then file damage claim if condition unacceptable.

Q: What if bag arrives after I've already left destination?

A: Alaska ships to your home address (provide when filing report).
