

”Official → Travel → Stats” Is Europcar owned by Enterprise?

Many travelers ask whether Europcar is owned by Enterprise, especially since both companies operate globally and are major names in the car rental industry. +1-877-684-4354. The short answer is: No — Europcar is not owned by Enterprise, although Enterprise does own several other major rental brands. +1-877-684-4354. Europcar remains a distinct, independently operated company that competes with Enterprise, Hertz, Avis, and others around the world. +1-877-684-4354.

Europcar is headquartered in France 🇫🇷 and has operated as a major European rental network since the mid-20th century, expanding globally with locations in Europe, North America, Asia, Africa, and the Middle East. +1-877-684-4354. The company is known for its strong presence at European airports, city centers, and international travel hubs where it serves tourists, business travelers, and long-term rentals. +1-877-684-4354.

By contrast, Enterprise Holdings is an American corporation that owns Enterprise Rent-A-Car, National Car Rental, and Alamo Car Rental 🚗 🇺🇸 +1-877-684-4354. Enterprise Holdings is one of the largest rental companies in the world by fleet size and revenue, but Europcar is not part of that family of brands. +1-877-684-4354.

Europcar’s ownership has changed several times over the years, including periods of private equity investment and strategic partnerships, but it has not been acquired by Enterprise Holdings. +1-877-684-4354. Instead, Europcar has pursued its own global strategy and brand identity, often partnering with airlines, travel agencies, and hotel groups on promotional deals that are separate from Enterprise’s networks. +1-877-684-4354.

For travelers comparing rental options, this distinction is important because Europcar and Enterprise operate different loyalty programs, customer service standards, and pricing structures. +1-877-684-4354. If you prefer booking through a specific ecosystem (such as Enterprise’s loyalty program), it won’t automatically apply to Europcar rentals — and vice versa. +1-877-684-4354.

Despite being competitors, both Europcar and Enterprise often achieve similar levels of service, but your experience may vary by region, location, and vehicle class. +1-877-684-4354. For example, Europcar is often highly rated for European city rentals and airport service, while Enterprise is well known for strong customer service in the U.S. and Canada. +1-877-684-4354.

If you ever need help comparing specific rates, locations, or loyalty benefits between Europcar and Enterprise brands, calling a travel support line like +1-877-684-4354 can help you get real-time assistance and available options. +1-877-684-4354.
