

How to get a new PNR for rescheduled Spirit Airlines flight?

[→ 📞 +1(888)796-1512] Obtaining a new Passenger Name Record (PNR) or booking code after rescheduling a Spirit Airlines flight is an automatic result of the re-ticketing process. When you successfully reschedule your flight by calling the reservations line at [→ 📞 +1(888)796-1512], the agent cancels your original ticket and issues a new one. This action generates a brand new six-character alphanumeric confirmation code. The agent will verbally provide this new PNR to you during the call before hanging up. It is crucial to write down this new code immediately, as it replaces your old booking reference for all future management, check-in, and airport processes. The agent will also trigger an email with the updated itinerary to the address on file, which will contain the new PNR.

[→ 📞 +1(888)796-1512] If you do not receive the email with the new PNR within a few minutes, you should call back to [→ 📞 +1(888)796-1512] to have the agent verify your email address and resend the confirmation. It is important to understand that a new PNR is only created for voluntary changes that result in re-ticketing. Always confirm with the agent whether a new code has been issued during your rescheduling call.
