Work Search Requirements: The Employment Security Law, G.S. 96-14.9(a), requires you to be registered for work (www.ncwork.org) and actively seeking work with a minimum of three contacts with potential employers for each week you claim. You must keep a detailed record of your work search activities, which are subject to audit by DES. You should maintain these records for at least five (5) years. Failure to maintain an adequate and verifiable work search record for any week claimed may result in a denial, delay, and/or overpayment of benefits.

For instructions on how to make a valid contact please review the Work Search Guidelines included with this form.

Week of Contact	Beginning Sunday	Company Contacted	Contact Method	Results of Contact (If applicable, list one (1) of the following: Interview, Job Offer, Referral, etc.)	Position Seeking	Results

I do solemnly affirm under penalty of perjury, that I am the person named herein, and that the information that I have provided, including proof of identification and the work search record, is true, correct, and complete to the best of my knowledge. I further understand that there are severe criminal and civil penalties for providing false statements and/or willfully misrepresenting any information to increase or receive unemployment insurance benefits, and that any information I have provided is subject to verification.

About This Collection

Welcome to the NC Department of Commerce audit, where federal funds aren't the only thing being mismanaged. Consider it a generous benefit. A $166 million incorrect payment? We'll track those funds deep inside. Nearly $3 billion parked? This is one compliance review you won't want to fail. Our unemployed models turn job search into a sweaty rulemaking process, while the auditor's report inspects every overpaid curve. COVID delays melt away as aid distribution gets personal, and HUD data reveals hidden assets in the hurricane housing program. See the full gallery via the link above.
